I do allow other family members and friends of yours to take pictures during the wedding. However, under some circumstances having other “photographers” at the wedding can be a distraction to myself, the bride and groom, and the wedding guests. Because of my photojournalistic style of wedding photography, I am skilled in remaining unobtrusive, and I use that to capture the most authentic moments possible. Please be aware that this may not be the same for other photography enthusiasts or photographers that you have taking pictures at your event. I leave it up to your discretion whether or not you will allow other photographers to shoot at your wedding, but I can not guarantee the same quality of images at a wedding where another photographer is getting in the way during important and meaningful parts of the wedding. Usually this can be avoided by explaining to any other photographers that you are getting all of the full resolution images that I shoot at your wedding, so photographing the same exact situations will end up with redundant images. - Copyrights: Until final payment for services rendered is made, all photographs produced by the Photographer are protected by Federal Copyright Law (all rights reserved) and may not be reproduced in any manner without the photographer’s explicitly written permission. The photographer is allowed to use images taken under this contract for self promotion, including, but not limited to: web site advertising, print advertising, sample albums and packages, photography contests, and art displays. Upon final payment by the Client, limited copyright ownership of the resulting images is allowed to the Client under the following conditions: The digital images and / or prints are the property of the Client for personal use and for the purposes of the reproduction and giving of photographs to friends and relatives.
